

Fog-Free Daily

Busy. Buried. Behind?

A 20-minute reset to create clarity in the AI era, get your momentum back, and unlock your potential.

20 MINUTES

Calm is the win. One clear move is enough.

Use it when the fog gets loud.

You do not need a new app, a perfect workspace, or a full life reset.
You need one clear surface, one honest read, and one finishable move.

What you need

A timer, your laptop, and 20 honest minutes.

What you do not need

A second brain, a new system, or more tabs.

The rule

If it starts feeling too big, shrink the move.

20 minutes. One surface. One thread.

Move fast. Do not turn this into a life overhaul.

01 Pick today's surface

2 min

Choose one place to clear: desktop, downloads, inbox, notes, tabs, or one project folder.

02 Sort into three piles

6 min

Keep. Move. Delete. If you hesitate, put it in Decide Later.

03 Choose one thread

8 min

Pick one open loop and write the next visible move in one sentence.

04 Lock the next move

4 min

Put the move where you will see it. Calendar, note, sticky, or task list.

Name how thick it is.

Rate each signal from 1 to 5. No shame. No overthinking. It is just a signal.

01 Finding things takes too long.

1	2	3	4	5

02 One task keeps turning into five.

1	2	3	4	5

03 Opening your laptop feels heavy.

1	2	3	4	5

04 Half-started loops keep buzzing.

1	2	3	4	5

05 A good idea feels buried in the mess.

1	2	3	4	5

Your readout is not a label. It is a starting point.

Fog-Free moment.

Write down what moved. That is the proof. Small counts.
